Shipping

We ship UPS Ground unless you specify another method. Check your shipment against your packing slip immediately. Report any shortages within 30 days of receiving your shipment. We cannot credit shortages if they are not reported within 30 days. Items shipped outside the continental United States will be sent by a reasonable surface method.

Returns and Adjustments

Adjustments

Please check your shipment when it arrives against your packing slip and tell us if we need to make adjustments. There will be no credit for shortages reported after 30 days.

Refund or Credit

The amount of credit or refund depends upon the salable quality of materials when we receive them. Please repack carefully. We also need your ACCOUNT NUMBER and INVOICE NUMBER. Used items, including those marked or stamped cannot receive credit. If we owe you a refund, we will send you a check for the value of the item(s) returned, according to how much you paid for your original order minus a 15% restocking fee. We recommend you insure your return package.

Returns

To help us serve you better, please mail or email us a Return Request Form BEFORE sending a return. This form and instructions are found on page 42, at the back of your catalog. Be sure to include your account number, invoice number, and a brief note of explanation. As soon as we receive your return request form we will contact you with return instructions.

Using the Catalog

The Carden Method® is available to schools, teachers, and individuals by means of a license agreement. Unless otherwise noted, the Carden Educational Foundation must have your properly executed Carden® License Agreement on file in order to fulfill orders from this catalog. Items available for purchase without a License Agreement are clearly identified in the item descriptions.

This catalog contains all Carden® materials currently available. All items have been listed under one of two headings, For the Teacher and For the Student. We recommend that each teacher have one of each item in the For the Teacher column. The corresponding student materials appear to the right of the teacher's publication. Each student should have his or her own copy of the items listed under For the Student. Consumable books have Workbook as part of the title.

Unless otherwise noted, all books are spiral bound to lie flat on the student's desk.

In general, items are listed in the sequence in which students will be using them.

Please note the following abbreviations:

TED: Teacher's Edition	This teacher's text includes the text, often annotated, of the student's book. It also serves as a guide and includes teaching techniques.
MAN: Manual	This is serves as a guide, and includes teaching techniques for the teacher.
ANS: Answers	This publication contains answers to the student's book with no directions for the teacher.

The Carden® Philosophy of Education

The following items are an excellent resource for all Carden® teachers, parents, and educators. All teachers should have a personal copy of Quality Teaching, Successful Learning. Parents whose children attend Carden School® will enjoy reading Let's Bring Them Up Sensibly, a book designed to help parents provide a home environment complementary to the Carden® philosophy of education.

The publications listed on this page only may be ordered without a Carden® License Agreement.

3200 Art Appreciation

A delightful Plan of Study provides a process that will establish the mental image whereby children will be able to see the picture mentally and recall it in detail.

Four paintings, including Renoir’s Madame Charpentier and Her Children, are in the Three-year-old Program and six, including Renouf’s The Helping Hand, are in the Four-year-old Program.

A Carden Nursery School Program

Does your school begin with four-year-old children?

Youngsters beginning Carden should not miss the key elements of the Carden THREE-YEAR-OLD PROGRAM.

Present Ask Mr. Bear and Good Night Moon according to the procedures of The Three-year-old Program, Parts 1 and 2.

Let them enjoy all of Little Rhymes for Little People.

They do the work of Numbers for the Three-Year-Old Child first. Then they begin arithmetic for the FOUR-YEAR-OLD PROGRAM.

Mae Carden believed that a basic education was more than reading, writing, and arithmetic. The arts—including paintings and music—are vital.

Schools beginning with four-year olds should begin with the selections of art appreciation for the three-year olds.

Remember that Mae Carden began with music. Going to the Zoo and Up, Up, Down, Down are among the songs children will enjoy. They first appear in The Three-year-old Program, Part 2.

9005 Fundamental Sounds of the Carden Reading Method 2000 9000 Doing the Carden Charts 2000

Every teacher needs Fundamental Sounds and the CDs of Doing the Carden Charts 2000. The classroom needs the appropriate wall charts listed for its grade.

The teacher's understanding of the Carden fundamental sounds must be so secure that all of them may be applied readily with natural ease for the benefit of the learner. With stamina clothed in upbuilding patience, the teacher answers the slower ones' questions "ten thousand times with a smile." With insight based on accurate knowledge, the teacher meets the faster ones' challenges by giving them tools in a few moments that they may begin using immediately for a lifetime.

0180 Grade One Manual

This book correlates the three Carden readers and their workbooks among themselves and with spelling, handwriting, and other key elements of language arts.

It outlines standards and achievements, includes games, and presents teaching techniques, procedures, and schedules.

3103 French for Elementary Schools

Kindergarten and Grade One use this book of pictures for French lessons. The teacher has the text in English and French in 3104 Manual...

Students are acquiring a French mental image as they do the lessons and developing a speaking vocabulary. In Grade Three they will meet the French alphabet and words in print. Because they know a great number of words, they will be able to recognize key relationships among French spelling, sounds, and grammar.

Learning French in the light of their understanding of English enables students to master key techniques of learning foreign languages. The wealth of words from French found in everyday English aids students who make French their first foreign language to learn.

Teaching Ahead

Teaching ahead is a vital principle of the CARDEN METHOD®. As classes move forward developing the Carden consonant and vowel charts (9005 & 9000), introduce the wall charts as follows:

Four-year olds — 4060

Kindergarten — 4060, adding 4061 and 4062

Grade 1 — 4060 - 4062, adding 4063

Grade 2 — 4060 - 4063, adding 4064 - 4066

Grades 3, 4, and 5 — all of the charts

Students enrich their understanding of items on the charts through practical application in reading, writing, speaking, and listening.

- ✓ increase their understanding of people of other lands,
- ✓ use their books effectively in discussions of current events,
- ✓ compare the geography of one continent with another, and
- ✓ use computers to acquire valuable information.

This reader reviews basic sounds for reading, spelling, and speaking. (See 0404, introductory pages a-l, and 0406, word list for Carden controls, pages c-g.)

Students develop vocabulary by learning more mature words and using these to retell the story, such as approaches instead of goes near. They learn details, and then they tell the story in a general way. This leads to the plan of the story. Students enjoy Aesop's fables, and they learn to summarize by writing summaries.

0485 Intermediate Class Book

Advanced students may start the first reader, Class Book 4, with Ne-qua-la and the Eagles (pages 17-17b). The teacher uses 0404 and 0406 when teaching this story.

Then students do Parts III-V (pages 47-101), and the teacher uses 0404 and 0407. Students benefit from lessons in rhythmic reading and writing summaries.

After finishing their work with the first reader, they begin the second (0485). They complete it in Grade 5.

Some students may begin the year with Intermediate Class Book. They should not, however, be denied the benefits of learning to write summaries and acquiring the techniques for organizing material and developing vocabulary that are key elements of Class Book 4. (See 0404, pages 94-101, and 0407, pages 70-86.)

Among those comprehension questions that help readers understand as they read, students enjoy the challenge of asking who not alive! Why is this tool valuable? (0486, page 4)

0644 A Dog of Flanders Workbook

This workbook includes the original text of the children’s classic, which is quite different from movie versions. A genuine copy of the book is difficult to obtain. Edited versions are available.

For the above reasons and more, students should be allowed to keep their copies upon completion of their work. They treasure the author’s excellent contribution to literature and to the good qualities of human life.

Is it not the original, the true story of Nello and Patrasche, that is unforgettable? Please let students keep their books.

0742 The Last of the Mohicans Workbook

Students read this classic, experiencing the richness of the story and the emotions of the suspense! As they read a chapter, they refer to that chapter’s vocabulary, which defines words within the context of the story. Except for four sets of paired chapters, each chapter has its own exercises. Students write answers to Ex. 1 in their workbooks. Ex. 2 presents matters for class discussion, and they make notes in their workbooks. They express personal thoughts, including how to handle disagreement. The workbook presents a brief biography of the author, an introduction to the novel and its characters (including time, setting, story pattern, genre, epigraphs, and historical accuracy), background for the French and Indian War (time of events in the narrative), and background for the United States in 1826 (time of the novel’s publication).

0847 Manual—Workbook for William Shakespeare's The Tragedy of Julius Caesar

To the Teacher includes preparation for the play and for reading the scenes.

Critical Commentary on the Play encourages students to refrain from adopting the thoughts of critics without examination.

Guide for The Tragedy of Julius Caesar has more than suggestions for teachers and answers to workbook questions. At appropriate places are discussions of the rhythm of Shakespeare's line, excerpts from Plutarch's Lives, and commentary on events, places, and people.

A list of characters with the scenes in which they appear helps students trace the person through the play.

0846 invites students to respond directly to a question or to put a comment in the margin or at the bottom of a page. They use their answers and comments in class discussions and as a basis for written and oral compositions. The workbook does not contain the text of the play.

The first two dictation lessons have a brief biography of Mae Carden. Mapping the Human Genome and The World Wide Web are among other subjects. Students learn to analyze paragraphs, interpret them, and organize their content. They learn to think as they listen and write. By making informal and topical outlines, students demonstrate their ability to organize efficiently subjects they have read or to which they have listened.

TRANSFER PROGRAM AND TUTORING MATERIALS

TRANSFER PROGRAM

The Transfer Curriculum is designed for students entering Carden from other school backgrounds at Grade 4 or above who are not prepared to do successfully the work that is required of them.

This class for students who are new to Carden and who need help in specific content areas may be scheduled as a required

- Course in summer before the beginning of the regular academic year,
- Summer session that will be continued for some students according to their needs through the school year, or
- Course for new students in the school. They move out of it as they attain the abilities necessary to assure success in the regular classroom.

WE REGRET THAT NO CREDIT OR REFUND MAY BE GIVEN WITHOUT THE INVOICE NUMBER. There is no credit on shortages not reported within 30 days. There will be no refunds or credits after 90 days from the invoice date. The amount of credit or refund depends upon the salable quality of materials when we receive them. Used items, including those marked or stamped, cannot receive credit or refund.

If we owe you a refund, we will send you a check for the value of the item[s] returned, according to how you paid for your original order. All returns subject to a 15% restocking fee.

Send this Request to Return Items to the following address:

The Carden Educational Foundation
PO Box 21568
